Victoria's Secrets and Bath & Body Works lead Brickell City Centre's latest announcement of tenants to join the 500,000 square-foot open-air retail center

Apparel brands Pinko, Suit Supply and Stitched also add to the growing list of retailers joining the almost fully-leased shopping center, set to open this November

MIAMI (July 6, 2016) - Swire Properties Inc, one of South Florida's leading international developers of urban real estate, along with retail co-developers Whitman Family Development and Simon Property Group, have announced Victoria's Secret, Bath & Body Works, Suit Supply, Stitched and Pinko to join Brickell City Centre's 500,000 square-foot shopping center that will open this November in the heart of Brickell. The five tenants follow a series of announcements revealing more than 80 retailers and eateries coming to the $1.05 billion mixed-use project.

"It is a sensational time for retail at Brickell City Centre in anticipation of the grand opening this November. The majority of the retail center is almost entirely leased with tenants beginning to outfit their individual stores," said Debora Overholt, vice president of retail at Swire Properties. "The combination of signing on well-known, contemporary brands such as Victoria's Secret and Bath & Body Works with high-end men's fashion brands like Stitched and Suit Supply broadens our shoppers' access to a diverse selection of retailers in addition to luxury and first-time international brands," she adds.

Most all of the buildings that make up the massive mixed-use project are complete. One of the two condominium towers, REACH, opened its doors in April with the second tower, RISE, expected to open late this summer. One of the two Class-A office towers, Three Brickell City Centre, opened in February with Florida's leading law firm, Akerman, as the anchor tenant. The second office tower, Two Brickell City Centre, is set to open this summer.
